Language

Puppet Drama Several of our puppets will find themselves in several emotional circumstances such as missing mommy, getting frustrated with their drawings, not listening to a friend's words and hitting a friend and getting so excited that they just can't sit still
 I Love Making a booklet of things we love. The pages will contain children's drawings and the words they dictate to teachers. Writing a child's words as they label their artwork helps make connections between meaning and written language
 Letter Sort As part of our Post Office work we'll sort mail using upper case letters

Math

Roll and Graph Game Using a die which has sad, happy and angry faces on it's sides, the children will roll the die and cover a space in the corresponding column of the graph
 Heart Glyphs A glyph is an illustration decorated to show information such as coloring the heart to show if your favorite thing about Valentine's is the candy, the cards or the stories
 Shape Sort Gaining practice in identifying shapes as we work in the Post Office

Art

A Mural of Magazine Faces Happy, sad, sleepy, surprised, angry ...eyes, mouths, eyebrows in magazine faces
 Marbleized Hearts Swirling shaving cream and food coloring and printing on heart shapes
 Collage Work A chance to work with lots of textures

Fine Motor / Gross Motor

Mail Time By using stickers, coloring pictures and writing, we'll make and send letters in our classroom Post Office to our friends
 Eraser Play and Letters Laying erasers along the curves and straight lines of the initial letter forms of our names

Science

Glitter Slime Creating and playing with the slime will give us an opportunity to explore how liquid starch thickens glue but still allows it to be poured

Social Studies

Pairing Emotions Cards with Photos of Faces Practice in discriminating between emotions and using a symbol picture to represent each emotion
